hi, i'm

LUMOS.

here's a few things you can ask me:

| how many credits are there in the CSE program? | can you plan a schedule based on my completed courses? | what are the pre-requisites to CSE311? |

or, just start typing directly → what are the pre-requisites to CSE311?

The CSE curriculum of North South University states that you must complete CSE215 (Introduction to Object Oriented Programming). CSE215 has its own pre-requisites, which I can list for you if you'd like.

how many credits are there in the CSE program?

The CSE program of North South University consists of 128 credits, with a possible of 132 credits completable fully. It is further possible, in addition to completing your CSE major, to complete a minor in either Math or Physics, by completing a few additional courses.

what are the additional courses i need to take to complete the physics minor?
